May 4 luncheon notes

Key takeaways from the speech given by Dale Folwell, NC State Treasurer:

— North Carolina is in great shape financially, thanks to the strategy and discipline of the conservatives in the NC General Assembly. We have retained our Triple A bond rating throughout this volatile period; the state debt is scheduled to fall 60% in the next couple of years; and we have one of the best-funded pension plans in the U.S.

— "Rich State, Poor State" ranked NC #2 in the country for businesses

— There is $1 billion sitting in the NC Cash fund - look up your name, as the State may owe you some money!

Sarah Stevens, Speaker Pro-Tem in the NC House, discussed parents' rights to control what happens to their children, including in schools. She offered insights into how the Left works and said we should question the authority of people making the rules, as administrators are working around laws to get to our children.

We celebrated the 96th birthday of Ralph Redman, MRW Associate and supporter, with cake and a rousing rendition of the birthday song.

Aftermath of Roe v Wade: Keep Nine Amendment

We are all celebrating the (not yet final) Supreme Court decision to repeal Roe vs. Wade.

The Left will be using this as a motivator for the mid-term elections. Just as predictable, calls have come again to stack the Supreme Court and add more judges.

That's why the Keep Nine Amendment is so important. This amendment would permanently preserve the current number of "9" Supreme Court Justices.
