

Message from the President by Maureen Zumwalt

Why can't the federal government be more like my high school teacher?

In my high school home economics class, the Sisters of Charities taught us the basics about managing the family budget:

1. Plan a budget and stick to it
2. Only buy what you need and get the best deal on the highest quality goods possible
3. Neither a borrower nor a lender be,

especially with friends and family

4. Save for large purchases, emergencies and retirement
5. Give to the poor and the church
6. Pay your bills on time
7. Be grateful for what you have, no matter how little or much - don't complain and don't brag

The Sisters believed they were simply training the next generation of housewives. But they did so much more. They created a thrift mindset based on biblical principles, understanding of human nature, and sound economic policies.

June 7 luncheon reminders

Reservations are closed.

If you're confirmed to attend, we encourage you to wear a "fascinator!"

Country Club of Whispering Pines
12 Noon

Speakers: Michael Whatley of NC GOP; Greg Gebhardt of MMIA; and just added: Charles Dingee, candidate for NC State Auditor.

Collection for Military Missions in Action: Toothbrushes, toothpaste, disposable razors, foot powder, baby powder, bar soap, deodorant, wipes.

Notice about luncheons

The June 7 luncheon is our last one for the summer. It's time to take a break and enjoy those lazy, hazy days! We'll be back in September with more great speakers as we ramp up for the November 7 municipal elections.

Welcome to our newest member:

Cheryl Martin

Happy birthday to WWII Veteran

A hearty "Happy Birthday" to Robert Levin, a veteran of WWII, who celebrated his 103rd birthday May 19 at Belle Meade in Southern Pines. Kay Wildt and other members of MRW were there to honor him.

Mr. Levin was captured by the Germans during the Battle of the Bulge, moved by German and then German SS soldiers to another Stalag, and then liberated by the Soviet forces approaching from the east.

Congratulations to this amazing veteran, and many thanks for his service to our country!

At the birthday party, we were also delighted to see Margaret Shaw, longtime MRW member, who now lives at Belle Meade. It was quite an occasion for appreciating patriotic Americans!

10 facts about NC voter ID

Last month we scored a major victory when the NC Supreme Court reversed an earlier ruling on Voter ID and restored the law that NC voters voted into the state constitution in 2018.

Naturally, the Left proclaimed this was racially discriminatory and would hurt opportunities for minorities to vote (as if minorities cannot take the actions needed to get IDs - now who's being racist?).

Be prepared with the facts. Click here to find out 10 facts about North Carolina's voter ID requirements for voting.

Election integrity: Become a poll worker!

Our luncheon speaker in May pointed out that there are many more Democrat poll workers than Republican ones. We need eyes and ears at the polls! The November municipal elections are coming up - and we need to get trained for the big 2024 election!

Events coming up...

Eugene Scalia at Bradshaw Center June 24

The Governor James E. Holshouser, Jr., Speaker Series will present an evening of thought-provoking dialogue and discussion with the esteemed attorney and former United States Secretary of Labor, Eugene Scalia. The event begins at 4:30 p.m.

His topic: The politicization and weaponization of federal agencies.

The son of the late Supreme Court Justice Antonin Scalia, Eugene Scalia has dedicated his life to labor and employment law. He has been a tireless defender of American businesses and hardworking Americans in the face of government overreach. Don't miss this opportunity to hear his unique perspectives drawn from his illustrious career, as well as anecdotes about his father Antonin, one of our greatest Constitutional originalists.

me with his ruler and said: "At the end of this ruler there's an idiot!"

I got detention after asking which end.
