

Massive win for North Carolina!

On Friday, April 28, the North Carolina Supreme Court overturned previous rulings and corrected political overreaches by the Courts.

Elections matter. The fight against the Left is worth it. Read more about this win and what it means in Maureen Zumwalt's message below.

Message from the President by Maureen Zumwalt

Common sense and Constitutional Conservatism return to the North Carolina Supreme Court

For years, trust in the North Carolina Supreme Court eroded as activist Democrat

Justices used their judicial power to enact a legislative agenda that voters had soundly rejected. The trust problem has been compounded by Democrat Attorney General Josh Stein, a former leading Democrat legislator, who seemed to be working against the North Carolina General Assembly in every lawsuit instead of providing zealous representation to defend the legislation.

In their zeal to legislate from the bench, activist judges abandoned long standing legal principles. One such principle is the presumption that the laws created by the General Assembly are Constitutional. Another equally important principle is that the issues of public policy belong to General Assembly, not the courts.

Taken together, these principles normally work to restrain activist judges who personally or politically disagree with legislative policy. This has not been the case in recent years in our highest courts.

North Carolina voters overwhelmingly rejected the work of activist judges....

Push back against government control...

...of your laundry!

Deadline to comment in the Federal Register: This Tuesday, May 2

The Biden administration continues its relentless drive to control how we live with another proposed rule to radically change residential clothes washers.

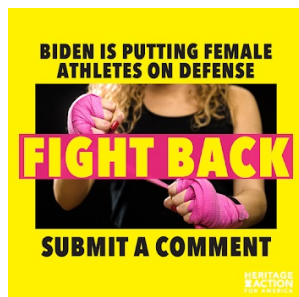

- Machines will be more expensive
- Hardship on low-income families
- Cycles will take longer
- Reduces cleaning performance
- Detergent costs may increase
- Government overreach must stop

After the administration finishes with gas stoves and clothes washers, they're coming for your refrigerators, refrigerator-freezers, and standalone freezers.

Comment in the Federal register on proposed rules changing Title IX!

Deadline May 15, 2023

Many of us fought hard for women's rights, back in the day. Now, the Biden Administration has proposed changing Title IX, specifically as it relates to females in athletics. Once again, women are "on defense," this time against trans athletes.

The proposed changes to Title IX raise significant concerns among parents, educators, and lawmakers across the country, because of the damaging impacts such a change will have on both the mental and physical well-being of female student athletes.

Make your voice heard and stand up for women again!

Responses to anti-School Board editorials in The Pilot

We said it above: Elections matter. We elected a conservative school board, which is doing its best to reverse long-time declines in Moore

County educational results. And we're fighting the Left every step of the way. Here is a letter from School Board Chair Robert Levy responding to editorials that have appeared in The Pilot about Board moves to improve education, as well as a response to The Pilot's leftist bias from School Board Vice Chair David Hensley:

Speaking of Moore County Schools...

Moore County Schools use Lenovo computers and will be considering entering into a contract for new Lenovo laptops for employees. These laptops will probably be less expensive than other choices. However, in his talk to MRW last month, Gordon Chang mentioned Lenovo computers specifically as a threat because they are made by a Chinese company.

Here is a link to a great article in Forbes about Lenovo.

Voice your concern to the Board, which can use your protest as evidence of public support to choose other computers.

April luncheon fundraising results

Thanks to everyone who participated in our sales and raffles. In April, we netted:

* Raffle for "Mystery Box" - $290. Patsy Peele and Regina Paquette have taken over the responsibility for creating great fundraising opportunities at our luncheons (thank you!!!). In April, they put together a beautiful Mystery Box, which contained a $200 gift certificate for the Spa at Pinehurst and was won by Kay Wildt.

* Ways and Means earned $104 with sales of jewelry.

*JD Zumwalt won $92.50 in the Split the Pot raffle.

Rest in peace: Ruth Guild

It's hard to say goodbye to beautiful Ruth Guild, aged 95, who passed away on April 8. Ruth was a long-time member of MRW and attended our luncheons until just recently. She had a long, useful and impressive life, which you can read about here. We'll miss you, Ruth!

Patriotic rally a big success

On Saturday, April 15, MRW hosted a rally and flag wave in support of President Trump at the corner of 15/501 and Morganton Road. We received numerous thumbs-up from drivers going past, and several drivers even parked and joined the rally. A positive way to be visible and be heard.

Don't miss...
